Tax Time Info Sheet – Managed Funds

Managed funds are a type of managed investment trust where your money is pooled together alongside other investors.

In your Tax Return

The ATO may be aware of any information provided to them via your managed funds and trust. However, if you did not supply your ABN or TFN to the trading platform, the managed fund's information will not show on the prefill.

If the information is not pre-filled, you must provide your statement from the managed fund. This statement indicates where you need to show the amounts on your tax return.

Income to declare

The ATO may be aware of any income or credits you have received from any trust investment product. The distribution advice or statement from the managed trust will show the information needed to complete your tax return.

The information needed includes:

- Income and capital gains from a trust, including a managed fund
- Capital gain or loss when you dispose of your managed investment trust units
- Your share of a national rental affordability scheme tax offset.

You may also claim credits for tax:

- Paid on or withheld from trust income
- Withheld from fund payments from a managed investment trust
- Withheld from trust income subject to foreign resident withholding tax, if you were in fact a resident.

Making a loss

If the managed fund makes an overall loss within the income year, the loss is retained within it. This means there is no amount of net income available for distribution.

In some cases, you are required to report a loss on your tax return. This happens if you are eligible to use averaging provisions available to primary producers and the trust has made a loss from its primary production activities yet has an overall net income amount which is then distributed to you.

Your distribution advice or statement from the trust will identify your share of any primary production loss and your share of other income.

Income deductions

Tax deductions for managed funds may include:

- Management fees
- Specialist journals
- Interest on money you borrowed to invest.

However, if you made a prepayment of $1,000 or more in relation to your managed fund, there are special rules which may affect the amount you can deduct. More information can be found here.

You cannot claim a deduction for the following:

- Expenses incurred when deriving exempt income or non-assessable non-exempt income. This includes expenses incurred in deriving distributions on which family trust distribution or trustee beneficiary non-disclosure tax has been paid.
- Amounts the managed fund has already claimed or that only the fund can claim.

Capital gains from a Managed fund

There may be distributions from the managed fund that are relevant for capital gains tax (CGT) purposes.

These distributions are relevant for CGT purposes:

- Capital gains
- Non-assessable payments.

Most of the time, non-assessable payments affect the cost base of units in a unit trust (this includes managed funds). However, they may create a capital gain.

The trustee should advise you whether the CGT discount, the small business 50% active asset reduction, or both, have been considered in working out the trust's net capital gain.

Tax Guide

The Annual Tax Guide contains general information about how to use this statement when you prepare your 2023 Tax Return. Where there are foreign capital gains and foreign tax paid on these gains, a calculation of Australian capital gains in respect of foreign CGT assets must be performed. The Betashares 2023 Tax Guide provides additional information on how to perform these calculations as well as how to claim the correct Foreign Income Tax Offset.
